King Selassie Confident Of Defeating Italians

EMPEROR IN INTERVIEW, TELLS PLANS

Returns To Capital After Airplane Trip To Front
To Review Troops

BY EDWARD W. BEATTIE
(Copyright, 1935, by United Press)

ADDIS ABABA, Nov. 22.—(UP)—

"Operations to date on the southern front have demonstrated that my armies are capable not only of resisting modernized warfare but even of defeating them," Emperor Haile Selassie told the United Press today. He made his statement in a self-written interview, in response to my questions, after an airplane flight to the eastern-southern front.

"We saw no Italian airplanes in the course of our trip," the emperor said. "But their presence was signaled from Jijiga, Harar and Dire Dawa—and there was another escadrille over Arusi—immediately after our departure from the front."

Jijiga and Harar, south of the Addis Ababa-Djibouti railway, are the chief eastern-southern war bases. Dire Dawa is on the railway. The Arusi country is south of the railway and west of Harar. Otherwise, the emperor said, the trip was without incident. But his visit, he said, convinced him of the mettle of his armies.

Armies Capable
"Operations to date in Ogaden (the southern front) have demonstrated that my armies are capable not only of resisting modernized troops but even of defeating them," he said.

"The courage of my soldiers compensates for their lack of equipment."
"The Italians never achieved the advances they claim. As a matter of fact they are still near the Ualul-Gorrahel-Gerlogubel line which they occupied a month ago. Our troops are still south of Sassa Baneh which they falsely claimed they captured."

(This front, part of which was occupied by the Italians a year ago and which was extended several weeks ago, is down near the frontier of Italian Somaliland. It is about 100 miles south of Sassa Baneh and nearly 200 south of Jijiga. Recent Italian communications have indicated that the main activity is now just north of this front.)

GENERAL STRIKE IN MEXICO IS CALLED

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 22.—(UP)—A general strike involving several hundred thousand workers will start in Mexico Sunday unless the government has before then ordered dissolution of the anti-semitic, anti-labor golden shirts.

A resolution ordering the strike was voted by the national committee for proletarian defense as a sequel to the clash Wednesday between its members and the golden shirts. Several persons were killed and scores wounded in street fighting.

The strike will continue, the resolution stated, as long as the "Fascist" golden shirts remain in existence.

The committee, which represents several hundred thousand railroad workers, textile operatives, electricians and street railway employees also demands the removal of Gen. Cincento Gonzalez, chief of police of Mexico City.

POLICE DEPARTMENT MOVES TO NEW CITY HALL NOV. 30

THE SANTA ANA police department will move out of its present crowded quarters in the Santora Land building at Second and Broadway into its new spacious quarters in the city hall on November 30, it was learned today.

The department will be the first of the city departments to occupy the new building, the others moving the following week.

The police department's quarters in the city hall are by far the most elaborate of any of the city offices, occupying a series of rooms which will house the chief, his secretary, the general headquarters, a jail cell, fingerprint department, a big gymnasium and a squad room.

The police raised more than

Roosevelt's Strength At Polls Falls

Literary Digest Poll Shows
President Loses Ground
In Many Regions

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—(UP)—Two powerful groups of industrialists and a poll of national sentiment by the Literary Digest hit the national administration with stiff jolts today. Wall Street batters dropped odds on President Roosevelt's reelection to nearly even money.

First returns of the Literary Digest's poll of 10,000,000 voters indicated the president would lose an election today in regions where 18 months ago he polled a substantial majority. Speakers for the National Founders association and the New York State Chamber of Commerce attacked the New Deal.

Thomas L. Parkinson, president of the New York Chamber of Commerce and of the Equitable Life Assurance society of the United States, betrayed the spirit of the executives with a statement that a president of the United States has the little known power to extend his term of office a year by declaring a national emergency and postponing the quadrennial national election.

Hutton Retracts
The only bright spot in the New Deal day was a retraction by E. R. Hutton, chairman of the board of General Foods corporation, of a suggestion in a current magazine article that all industry "gang up" in "one great industrial and business lobby" to defeat the Roosevelt program.

Hutton said his feelings about the administration "have been changed entirely" and he might have misjudged President Roosevelt's intentions. Statements by Secretary of Commerce Henry C. Roper in support of the profit system worked his conversion, he said.

He added that the article, which appeared in the public utilities fortnightly, was written last summer and "had I not been ill a few weeks ago when the magazine went to press I certainly would have withdrawn from publication the entire article." To "gang up," he said, was an expression he had used since boyhood.

STATE COMMISSION OF WORKERS MEET

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Nov. 22.—(UP)—An initial meeting of the state unemployment reserves commission was scheduled today for Nov. 24 following appointment of commission members by Gov. Frank F. Merriam.

Members of the new commission include C. B. Tibbets, Los Angeles; Samuel Leask Jr., Santa Cruz; John F. Chambers, Oakland; John S. Horn, Los Angeles; and J. L. Matthews, Covina.

While the commission is expected to work out a plan of unemployment insurance, no final action may be taken until federal funds are available inasmuch as the act authorizing the proposal was made dependent on congressional action.

Mason Would Named Editor Of Register

Appointment of Mason Yould, formerly city editor, to the post of editor of the Santa Ana Register was announced today by R. C. Hoiles and Clarence Hoiles, who yesterday purchased J. F. Burke's interest in The Register.

At the same time the Hoiles announced that there would be no change in the personnel of the paper other than those made necessary by the elevation of Yould to the editorship.

A statement of the future policy of The Register, and the aims and ambitions of the new owners is contained in the lead editorial appearing in today's issue of The Register.

BAKING SODA POISON PLOT PROBE WIDENS

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22.—(UP)—A trail of death in two-pound packages of bicarbonate of soda today expanded into a nationwide hunt by police and health authorities seeking to determine whether a San Francisco man and two women died by accident or design.

Stated in San Francisco, officers turned their attention to leads in New York and Chicago. In either of the two vicinities, they believed they might stumble upon a clue which would explain how deadly arsenic became mixed in lethal quantities into bulk bakingsoda sold to an estimated 300 San Francisco families at a "cut price" department store.

Three persons died after using the baking soda. Twenty-one others were stricken with arsenic or fluoride poisoning in varying degrees.

While medical authorities checked the causes of 29 earlier deaths, George Punararas, 45, entered a San Francisco restaurant, ordered a meal and died in convulsions. A package of baking soda was found on his table, investigators said.

LORD HALIFAX TO SUCCEED MACDONALD

LONDON, Nov. 22.—(UP)—Lord Halifax has been appointed lord privy seal in the government which Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin is forming. It was announced by James Ramsay MacDonald, who was defeated for re-election in the November 14 general election.

MacDonald remains lord president of the council, it was announced. Halifax replaces Lord Londonderry.

Malcolm MacDonald, son of the former premier, has been appointed dominions secretary. J. H. Thomas, colonial secretary, and Duff Cooper, secretary of war.

Viscount Halifax was war secretary in the outgoing cabinet.

HELENA ROCKED BY STRONG EARTHQUAKE

HELENA, Mont., Nov. 22.—(UP)—A check up today disclosed that a strong earthquake in this region last night caused no damage, although it increased the nervousness of residents of this quake-wrecked city.

The shock came at 8:53 p. m., and was the heaviest recorded in several weeks. The weather bureau reported.

It lasted five seconds and was the 921st shock recorded in the past month during which a series of tremors caused approximately $3,000,000 in property damage and claimed several lives.

Decision On Support To Be Voted On

Citizens Committee Called To Meet This Evening
In City Of Orange

A DECISION on whether the Citizens' Water committee will actively support the second water bond election, called by the board of supervisors for December 19, is expected to be reached at a specially called meeting of the committee at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the Orange Chamber of Commerce offices, it was learned today.

Certain members of the committee, it was learned by The Register, will urge the committee to continue its activities and to support the proposed $6,620,000 bond election, called by the supervisors on the same program which was turned down by voters at the October 4 election.

The Citizens' Water committee, headed by W. H. Spurgeon of Santa Ana, is the group that worked for the first water bond election and which later circulated petitions asking the board of supervisors to call an election on a "minimum" needs program the second time.

The board of supervisors called the second election this week, disregarding the suggestion of their own consulting engineers that the county might save $1,650,000 in the purchase of right-of-ways. Supervisor N. E. West cast a lone vote against resubmitting to the voters the same water program which was defeated at the first election.

PRESIDENT SEEKS PROBE OF CHARGES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—(UP)—The Federal Trade commission said today that it had received a request from President Roosevelt to investigate PWA Administrator Harold L. Ickes' charges of "collusion" in steel bids for certain PWA projects.

Ickes' charges were made after it was revealed a German steel manufacturer had submitted a bid for material to be used on the Triborough bridge, New York, at a figure much lower than American bids.

Ickes also said that "evidence of collusion" existed in bids of American manufacturers for steel for a Morehead, N. C., terminal project on which German bids were also accepted.

The Triborough contract later was cancelled by the bridge authority.

FOUR LARGEST FARM CENTERS OF STATE IN ORANGE COUNTY

FOOTHILL FARM Center of Orange has the largest membership of any farm center in California, and today brought back to Orange county the California Farm Bureau Federation cup, awarded at the state convention which closed yesterday in Santa Cruz, showing three of the four largest farm centers of the state to be in Orange county.

This is the second time the cup. Committee appointments given has come to Orange county, Garden Grove farm center ranking as the largest both in the state and the nation in 1931, with more than 300 members.

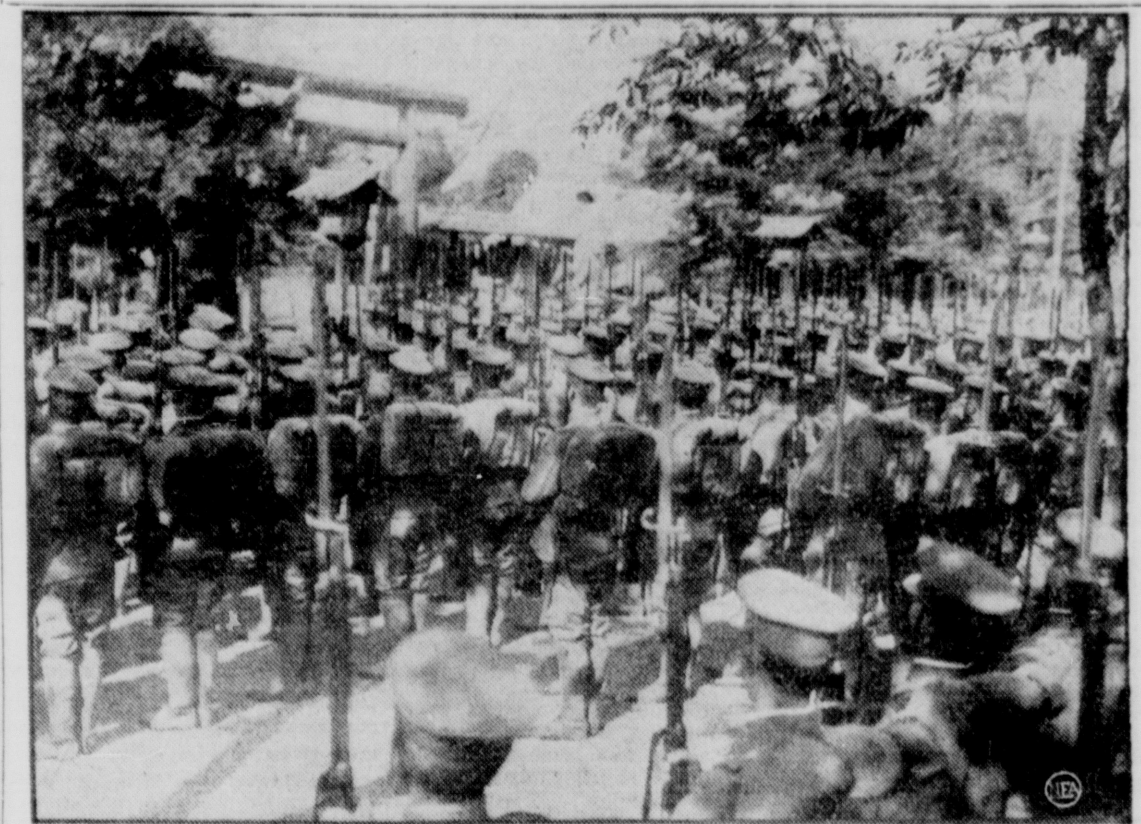

Foothill won the cup this year with 237 members, Garden Grove ranking second with 233 and Tustin fourth with 232. Roberts Union Farm center, of the San Joaquin valley, which won the cup last year, dropped to third position this year.

President W. C. Armstrong, of Foothill center, was chairman of the membership committee during the last year, when the increase was made, with Frank Collins serving as president at that time.

Another cup brought home from the convention was the trophy awarded to the 41 Orange county delegates to the convention, for traveling the largest aggregate mileage in reaching the convention. Their total was 14,760 miles. The delegation also was fourth largest in size at the convention.

READY TO MOVE INTO NORTH CHINA

Pictured below is the crack First Division of Japanese fighting men in readiness to move into provinces of Northern China is the expected declaration of an autonomous state. The situation in both China and Japan is tense as war lords delay plans to make a move which may bring down action from the League of Nations.

NORTH CHINA SETTLEMENT APPEARS NEAR

TOKYO, Nov. 22.—(UP)—Chiang Kai-Shek, China's ruler, has succeeded in halting the movement for establishment of an autonomous state in North China, no-official Japanese circles believed today. The official opinion has not been made public.

Chiang has a concrete program for settling the future status of the north, it was understood, although a foreign office spokesman said he had not the slightest information as to its nature. Chiang has promised, it was added, to appoint high Chinese officials to conduct conversations with the Japanese, but the names of the Chinese representatives have not been made known.

JAPANESE ENVOY TO CHINA IS STONED

SHANGHAI, Nov. 22.—(UP)—The train on which Akira Ariyoshi, Japanese ambassador to China, arrived today from Nanking was stoned by a mob near Chinkiang station, the Japanese diplomat said.

Ariyoshi, who went to Shanghai to discuss the autonomy movement in North China with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, was accompanied by a Japanese policeman when he detrained.

No one was injured in the stoning of the train at Chinkiang, 45 miles northeast of Nanking, but one missile entered the coach in which the ambassador was riding.

FARMER GETS BREAK

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—(UP)—Farmers get more breaks than the home town folk in New York City. The only liquor bar in the city with an all night license is in the Bronx market, where farmers begin congregating at about 2 a. m. The state liquor authority granted the unique bar license "because it would be unjust to deprive farmers of the privilege of drinking during their working hours."

GOVERNMENT IN THREAT TO SUE ON UTILITY ACT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—(UP)—The administration met a deluge of attacks on constitutionality of New Deal laws today with a threat of civil suits to force compliance with the public utility holding company act of 1935.

The government prepared to rush its legal experts into the conflict with "big business" over major plans in the Roosevelt program. The holding company attack was considered one of the most important and, for the first time, the administration indicated its action against those refusing to register under the new law.

Constitutional test of the holding company law before the supreme court is assured in action taken by utilities, but by today's action the government would take the offensive.

At the same time, the securities and exchange commission again assured the holding companies that they do not waive constitutional rights if they register with the SEC prior to Dec. 1 as provided for in the law.

Not To Register

Several large utility holding companies have announced their intention not to register because they feel this action might weaken their case when the entire utility industry is forced to register.

10,000 ANTI-NAZI PARADE IN GOTHAM

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—(UP)—A parade of 10,000 members of the Anti-Nazi federation and a formal protest by 138 protestant ministers and prominent laymen added weight today to attempts to keep American athletes out of the 1936 Olympic Games in Berlin.

Both groups urged athletes and tourists to boycott the Games, alleging they are a political aid to a government that has destroyed the Olympic concept of open sport by oppression of races, religions and political parties.

The protestant church leaders, following closely a recent statement by the Anglican bishops, said they hope "that there will be such a widespread declaration to participate that it will be clear to the Nazi government that its cruel treatment of 'non-aryans' is repugnant to the conscience of the whole world."

TRANS-PACIFIC AIRMAIL TO BE STARTED TODAY

LAMEDA AIRPORT, ALA.—Sleek, glistering and mechanically perfect, America's greatest commercial seaplane, Pan American Airways' giant China Clipper, idled in its hangar today awaiting a 3:25 p. m. takeoff on history's first scheduled trans-Pacific airmail flight.

At that hour, Capt. Edwin C. Musick, Pan American's No. 1 pilot, and a crew of eight men will climb aboard the huge four-motored sky-liner and send it roaring out across the Golden Gate, bound for Honolulu, Midway Islands, Wake Islands, Guam and the Philippines carrying more than a ton of mail bearing condolences of the U. S. postal service.

In a comparatively few hours of flying, the clipper will have reached its destination. One hundred fifty years ago, playing the same course, the first sailing ship fought its way through calms and storms on a months-long voyage.

Lavish ceremonies, which began two days ago, will attend the take-off.

Farley On Hand

A greeting to the clipper's crew will be broadcast from Manila, and a similar message will be dispatched by Gov. Joseph P. Bland, governor of Hawaii from Honolulu. On hand at the airport will be Postmaster General James A. Farley, Governor Frank P. Merriam of California, Mayor Angelo Rossi of San Francisco, Mayor Joseph McCracken of Oakland, Juan T. Trippie, president of Pan American, and numerous other dignitaries.

Farley was to be the principal speaker at a luncheon honoring the crewmen in San Francisco before the flight begins.

The China clipper will follow the course mapped by the "Flying Laboratory" Pan American clipper, a slightly smaller Sikorsky flying boat, on a series of explanatory flights which began last March. The Pan American clipper's first hop was to Honolulu and return.

COUNTY BEET GROWERS WILL BENEFIT BY AAA EXTENSIONS

THE AAA today announced extension of the 1935 sugar beet production adjustment contract to include the 1936 crop year, which will mean benefit payments amounting to about $150,000 to Orange county growers.

There are 227 Orange county sugar beet growers cooperating in the control program, according to W. M. Cory, assistant farm advisor who is in charge of the program for Orange, Los Angeles and San Diego counties.

Orange county beet growers to date have received $78,169.70 in benefit payments. Two more payments are due, amounting to around $60,000, which will be made in the near future, Cory said today. This makes a total of $138,000 paid or expected soon on the program here.

According to news received today from Washington, D. C., on the basis of past production cooperation producers have been allocated contract acreage expected to produce a national total of 1,550,000 tons of beet sugar.

Producers receive benefit payments on their beet production in an amount approximately equal to the difference between the sale and parity price. Producers who were forced to abandon planted acreage due to general crop failure are eligible for deficiency payments.

Average allotments for 1935, the AAA said, totaled about 975,000 acres, the amount considered necessary to produce the 1,550,000 tons of sugar permitted to be marketed annually under the Jones-Costigan agreement.

LAVA FLOWS STEADILY TO KONA COAST

Coast Guard Ready To Evacuate City In Case Of Emergency

HILO, T. H., Nov. 22.—(UP)—Moving at unusual speed, two streams of fiery lava from Mokuawewe, second largest active volcano in the world, moved steadily on Hilo and the Kona coast today.

At 2:30 a. m. (Island time) the northeast stream, threatening Hilo, was only 25 miles from the city. It had moved 15 miles in less than 24 hours.

The lava tide washing down the other slope, toward the Kona coast, had traveled an equal distance.

The U. S. S. Tiger of the U. S. Coast Guard service was ordered to stand by for emergency evacuation of the city and of villages along the coast of the island of Hawaii, largest island of the mid-Pacific group.

All available deputies of the U. S. Forestry service were mobilized for the emergency.

The Kona flow appeared certain to cut off the government road on that side of historic Mauna Loa within 36 hours.

At present the lava, which had a spread of five miles in width before it split into two streams, is working its way relentlessly through forest areas.

Not since 1899 when an eruption of the crater washed a lava river to within three miles of Hilo has the danger to the city seemed so great.

In the path was the Wailuku river, source of Hilo's water supply.

Old residents said the flow was the largest within their experience. Weird flames shooting skywards from the fiery mass were visible for 60 miles. Sightseers flocked toward Hilo to see one of nature's most awesome spectacles.

The northern pit of Mokuawewe, second only to Mt. Vesuvius in size, exploded early yesterday after earth tremors had warned islanders Madame Pelee, mythical goddess of the volcano, was dancing again.

ASSEMBLY PROBES TO RESUME INQUIRY

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Nov. 22.—(UP)—Sensational developments in the series of investigations of state affairs were expected by officials today as Assemblyman Leon M. Donihue, Oakland, called the first general meeting of his special legislative audit committee.

Officials of three state agencies—the Napa state farm, printing plant and finance department—were summoned to appear before the committee as the formal investigation got under way.

The meeting represents a climax of two months' study by Donihue and committee accountants. The inquiry was started shortly after discovery of a $24,000 shortage in the state treasurer's office.

Members of the committee include Assemblymen Donihue, Ralph Evans, Los Angeles, Don Field, Glendale; C. C. Cottrell, San Jose, and Ford A. Chatters, Tulare.

ity act's constitutionality is adjudicated.

"It is the purpose of the commission," the SEC said, "to proceed with the enforcement of the act in an orderly and economical manner."

"The commission will not harass the industry with a multiplicity of suits. And the commission will resist any efforts that may be made to vex the government with a multiplicity of suits or to provoke litigation with a view to presenting the issue of constitutionality on the basis of an inadequate record or a record not fairly typical of the situations, covered by the act."

"If there is a general failure to register under the act, the commission will proceed promptly to bring civil proceedings against one or more large and important companies, which may fail to register, to enforce compliance with the act and to seek decisions from the supreme court sustaining its validity."

No Recommendations

"In the meantime, at least for the immediate future and until further notice, the commission does not intend to make any recommendations to or request upon the department of justice for the institution of proceedings to enforce criminal liabilities under the act. The commission understands that the attorney general has sent a circular to district attorneys setting forth the attitude of the department of justice."

"Council for the commission is firmly of the opinion that registration does not constitute a waiver of any constitutional right which the registering company may have. And the commission under its rule-making power expressly permits the registrant to reserve his constitutional rights."

"The commission is prepared to go further and accept a notification that expressly stipulates that the notification of registration will, at the option of the registrant, be deemed void if the registrant's reservation of its constitutional rights is adjudged void or ineffective. No possible ground in reason remains for any company to fail to file a simple notification and registration under these circumstances as a sheer precautionary matter for the protection of its investors."

'ZEKE'S BUNCH' WILL OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY

"Zeke's Bunch" will help him celebrate his golden wedding anniversary by "throwing a party" at Tustin high school auditorium tomorrow evening.

The affair will be in honor of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Zelman, whose fiftieth marriage anniversary will occur next Monday. They were married in Stockton, November 25, 1885.

"Zeke's Bunch" is an organization formed by former pupils of Prof. Zelman, who taught the Tustin schools for a generation. The deep attachments formed for their teacher united this group in a unique organization named in his honor, which meets annually. The group numbers some of the most prominent residents of the county.

The "Zeke" parties are usually held in Tustin grammar school, but it was deemed necessary to get larger quarters this year to hold the crowd expected to attend.

Flowers Sent New Owners Of Register

Speaking their own message of good wishes, many beautiful baskets of flowers were received by R. C. Hoiles and C. H. Hoiles today. The flowers were placed around the business offices of The Register.

Among the persons and firms which sent flowers and messages of congratulation to the new owners of The Register were C. W. and Wayne Harrison, the W. H. Spurgeon Realty company, Herbert Miller, Inc., the Santa Ana branch of the Security-First National bank, the Kiwanis club, M. B. Wellington and Pete Colanichick and the Famous store.

NOT GUILTY PLEAS FILED IN COURT TODAY

Jesus Lemus, of Fullerton township, pleaded not guilty to three felony charges brought against him today in Superior Judge James L. Allen's court, where his trial, on all counts, was set for December 17 at 9:30 a. m. in Judge H. G. Ames' court.

Lemus was charged with possession of firearms by an alien, possession of firearms by a felon, and possession of marijuana. All offenses were dated October 28.

Mauro Mendoza of Santa Ana pleaded guilty to two counts of arson when arraigned today before Judge Allen, in connection with the burning of a barn belonging to the Whitson Lumber company last May 14, and a hay stack belonging to L. L. Marchant last June 8. He applied for probation and will receive a hearing November 29 at 10 a. m.

A charge of grand theft was dismissed today on motion of the district attorney's office in the case of G. U. Carter, accused of stealing a $294.40 money order from the Western Union telegraph company October 4.

NORTH CHINA SETTLEMENT APPEARS NEAR

The foreign office has received a complete report of the interview between Chiang and Akira Ariyoshi, Japanese ambassador to China. It was learned Ariyoshi had told Chiang that an effort by Nanking forcibly to halt the autonomy movement might create a serious situation in North China. Japan, like the rest of the world, appeared puzzled today by the turn events have taken in North China. Officials were wondering where the report originated that an autonomy proclamation was scheduled for last Thursday. The silence which fell yesterday over the area continued today.

Asahi Shimbun editorially expressed disappointment today over the failure to announce autonomy. The newspaper said the Chinese government is not equipped to rule the country nominally governed by it, although it continues to "pose" as an independent and sovereign government.

The foreign office today reiterated its statement Japan considers that the autonomy movement sprang from the people and was therefore a domestic Chinese matter, which Japan for the present is watching.

SCHOOL HEADS HONORED AT DINNER EVENT

Complimented at a dinner party last night in Hotel Laguna, Superintendent of Schools Frank Henderson and school board members were surprised to hear some of their early history related by speakers in an after-dinner program.

Polytechnic high school faculty members had planned the event, observing "know thy neighbor" as the theme—or an excuse as the case might be—for delving into the early life of the board members. Glenn Woolley presided as toastmaster, calling on board members for talks which were never given. For as each member cleared his throat in readiness for a few impromptu remarks, he found a substitute ready to do the talking. Charles Webber represented Henderson; Miss Lavinia Scott represented Dr. Margaret Baker; Clyde Cook spoke for M. B. Youell; John Swarthout for Ridley Smith; Robert S. Farrar for Rolla Hays. Last to be called on, President George Wells was informed that no one could take his place, so he gave a short talk to which Miss Lula B. Finley added a few words. Lynn Crawford's short talk was supplemented by remarks by Charles L. Tibbets.

Mrs. Henderson and wives of school board members, with Dr. Margaret Baker's husband, Dr. Willis P. Baker, shared honors at the dinner. Miss Ruth Rowland was general chairman of the affair, assisted by Stuart Carrier and R. H. Green as a committee on arrangements. Miss Ada McFadden and Miss Lucinda Griffith were in charge of decorations, which included copper candlesticks made by the latter's art classes.

John McCoy had arranged a program including a trumpet solo by Leland Auer, accompanied by Mary Batten Steffensen, who gave a vocal solo accompanied by Miss Ruth Frothingham.

In recognition of his 25 years of service at the high school, W. M. Clayton was presented with a copy of T. E. Stephenson's book, "Camino Viejo." Through the courtesy of William Griffith, the dinner group visited the Laguna Beach Art Gallery following the program.

BAKING SODA POISON PLOT PROBE WIDENS

was ordered, the coroner's office expressed doubt that Purnaras was a victim of the mysteriously poisoned soda. Instead, they believed, he succumbed to heart disease or another chronic ailment aggravated by injudicious use of the bicarbonate of soda.

The outstanding discovery to date developed last night when chemists reported a short, 100-pound barrel previously believed to have contained baking soda had contained pure fluoride.

Through efforts of the department store proprietor, it was learned that contents of this barrel had been used to refill other barrels of soda being retailed on the sales floor of the department store as their levels receded.

In this discovery was the answer to how deadly fluoride became mixed in the baking soda. Disclosure of this accident, however, did not explain the presence of the arsenic, although it accented the theory that the mystery resulted from carelessness rather than any insane plot.

While prime interest of local investigators centered in this squalid barrel of the contaminated compound, sold to the department store by the Manno Salvage company, promising developments appeared in the east.

Dr. J. C. Geiger, San Francisco city health officer, reported I. Schwartz, chief chemist for the Bender and Schlesinger Chemical Laboratories, had informed him he had made similar findings two years ago in a poison soda case in New York. Samples of the sodium bicarbonate submitted to him contained 30 per cent sodium fluoride and arsenic, the New York chemist reported.

"Perhaps the San Francisco and New York bicarbonates came from the same sources," he suggested. "I may be of service in tracing any connection."

Dr. Geiger said he might send samples of the poisonous soda here to the New York health department if he receives formal request.

One angle in the case shifted to Chicago when authorities learned that Howard Kaeding, former Manno Salvage Company employee, last was reported there. While he was not under direct suspicion, other employees suggested he might know something of the manner in which the salvaged product became poisoned.

Joseph Rosenthal, proprietor of the store which retailed the poison merchandise, and Nick Manno, salvage company operator who sold the wholesale produce to Rosenthal after packing remnants of broken packages in bulk barrels, both denied it could have become poisoned in their establishments. Both men were charged with violation of pure food laws. Their hearing was continued until Dec. 2 and they continued at liberty under nominal bond after Dr. Geiger expressed conviction that neither had guilty knowledge in the case during arraignment in municipal court.

Jaycee Football Game for Tonight Is Declared Off

The Oceanside Junior college-Santa Ana Junior college football game, scheduled to be played in the Santa Ana municipal bowl tonight, was called off this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

Announcement of the decision to call the game came after the coaches of the two schools conferred and agreed that the weather, rainy and murky, would make playing inadvisable.

hood as synonymous with "get together."

Outline Policy

The National Founders association, with 200 industrialists from all parts of the country in convention, closed a meeting with a plea that "all industry" adopt a policy of "presenting sound and basic principles" to legislators and government executives.

"We agree in principle with the proposition of making individual voters everywhere tax-conscious through the strongest methods available," a resolution said.

Sen. L. J. Dickinson, R., Ia., in the chamber of commerce assault accused Rexford G. Tugwell, character member of the "brain trust" and administrator of rural resettlement, of "urging an alliance of farmers and workers in an undisguised project for seizing political power so it may be exploited in the interest of special groups."

He said Tugwell is openly subversive and asserted that "either President Roosevelt must openly disavow and drive from office this inciter to revolution, or he himself stands as tacitly approving."

The Literary Digest poll, which had most to do with shortening of betting odds on President Roosevelt's 1936 chances, included 40,053 votes from three mid-western and two southern states. Ballots asked the question: "Do you now approve the acts and policies of the Roosevelt New Deal to date?"

The vote was 53.28 per cent No, 47.72 per cent Yes. A poll on the same issue in the late spring of 1934, canvassing almost the same voters, gave the New Deal a national majority of 61.15 per cent. That was a larger majority than the 59.15 per cent of the Roosevelt-Hoover vote President Roosevelt received in the 1932 election.

Georgia and Oklahoma gave the New Deal majorities, but three states in the corn belt, Iowa, Kansas and Missouri, voted against it. All three approved the New Deal in the 1934 poll.

Ryan and Co., betting commissioners, placed odds on President Roosevelt's renomination and election last night at 2-1, but predicted a sharp shortening of the margin today and even money if the later results of the magazine poll showed the same trend.

The vote by states was: Georgia—Yes, 2788, 70.38 per cent; no, 1169, 29.62 per cent; Iowa—Yes, 7309, 41.16 per cent; no, 10,447, 58.84 per cent; Kansas—Yes, 1884, 44.67 per cent; no, 2334, 55.33 per cent; Missouri—Yes, 5515, 46.82 per cent; no, 6264, 53.18 per cent; Oklahoma—Yes, 1225, 52.06 per cent; no, 1128, 47.94 per cent.

PRESIDENT TO ADD 4000 MEN TO NAVY

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Nov. 22.—(UP)—President Roosevelt will make provision in the new 1936-37 budget for an increase of 4000 men in the navy, he revealed today.

To reporters gathered about his automobile in an "open air" press conference, Mr. Roosevelt said the naval force would be brought up to 100,000 men or a yearly average of 96,000. This compares with a present maximum of 96,000 or an average of 92,000.

It was estimated tentatively the additional strength to the personnel would cost $3,600,000. The marine corps also will be slightly increased as the president is proposing to boost the force from 16,000 to a 17,000 maximum.

KING SELASSIE CONFIDENT OF BEATING ITALY

Asked the purpose of his visit to the front, the emperor said:

"We wanted to join our soldiers not in order to encourage them, which we know is unnecessary, but in order to visit them, learn their needs and become cognizant with the present military situation."

"We also wanted to bring our wounded the recompense and assurance that they deserve."

"We were touched by the order reigning among our troops, even when they are only militiamen with only primitive military education."

"Feeling and a yearning for duty replace in them the qualities supplied by discipline and training to European armies."

"The tactics we imposed have had no repercussion on the troops' morale."

"They unquestionably would prefer to throw themselves forward but they understand the necessities which dominate our strategic decisions."

These decisions are that the Ethiopians must restrain themselves, harass the Italians and await personal orders from the emperor to attack on chosen ground at a chosen time.

"Aerial bombardment has had not even the least effect on the morale of troops or inhabitants," continued the emperor. "They have rapidly familiarized themselves with danger. Furthermore there must be emphasized the meagre effects of those bombardments. For instance, at Gorrabel, where literally hundreds of bombs were dropped with only 17 killed or seriously injured among our troops."

TRANS-PACIFIC AIRMAIL TO BE STARTED TODAY

Its next journey was to Midway, via Honolulu. Other flights thrust progressively westward, first to Wake, then Guam and now the China clipper will continue on to the Philippines. Another trip is scheduled to the Philippines before the big mail plane makes the complete crossing to China.

Sullivan, V. A. Wright, Noonan and Jarboe are veterans of all the previous trans-Pacific hops. Sullivan, after the first two explanatory flights, took command of the Pan American clipper from Capt. Musick, who was called to the east coast.

At Honolulu, the China clipper will pick up 14 passengers, including the sea scouts, two cooks for the Airways Midway Islands base and company employees en route to terminals at Wake, Midway and Guam.

A majority of the clipper's mail load, four times that expected by postoffice officials, was contributed by stamp-collectors anxious to add a "first flight" cover to their collection. Approximately 100,000 pieces of mail were to be stowed aboard when the ship is wheeled from her hangar.

PROBLEMS OF LABOR TOPIC
FOR NYLANDER

Social planning, under the general topic of "Labor and Government," was discussed at last night's lecture under the auspices of the Santa Ana adult education department, at the Francis Willard Junior High school auditorium, by Dr. Towne Nylander, director of the regional labor board in Los Angeles.

Dr. Nylander discussed legislative precedents of governmental activity in labor disputes, mentioning particularly the transportation industry, the Anti-Injunction act of 1932, and the bankruptcy act.

He also defined the national labor relations act, commonly known as the Wagner bill, which he termed the most recent legislation on collective bargaining. The four provisions of the act he outlined as: providing for a national labor relations board; defining the rights of employees; outlining unfair practices; and providing methods for determining who represents the employees.

Enforcement of the act, he stated, is faced with many problems, such as limitation, jurisdictional disputes, constitutional questions, and general labor problems.

He also outlined and discussed the steps taken by the regional labor board and the federal government in regard to a group not conforming to a labor regulation.

The government, by planning and public works programs, is taking great steps in helping labor conditions, he said, and the social security bill in particular is aimed to eliminate many of the uncertainties now besetting American labor.

BETTER PRICE REPORTED FOR PERSIMMONS

Jubilant over the fact that persimmon growers of Orange county are netting two and a half cents a pound for their product this year as compared with one cent a pound last year, the Caligator Persimmon Growers today were planning to organize still better and to work for continued better returns from the industry.

Members of the association met this week for a pot luck supper at the home of Mrs. Bertha Belt of Garden Grove. The event took the form of a real Thanksgiving celebration, it was reported, not only because those attending had turkey with all the fixings, but also because these growers have real cause for rejoicing in obtaining an excellent return on their persimmons for the first time in several years.

Mrs. G. P. Olson, secretary of Caligator Pear Corporation, Ltd., gave a report on the marketing of fancy packed flats of persimmons, which revealed that they have been selling for as high as two dollars per flat. She expressed the belief that through the outlets developed this season the entire crop can be handled to advantage next year.

According to reports, the persimmon crop in Orange county this year is somewhat below that of last year. The desert winds did some damage to the crop this year.

An Important Statement
by Walter P. Chrysler

In which he Explains the Plan and Purpose Behind the New Lower-
Priced De Soto for 1936 .. Companion
Car to the New De Soto Airflow III

THE NEW CUSTOM AIRSTREAM DE SOTO TOURING SEDAN, WITH BUILT-IN TRUNK. SEVEN OTHER BODY MODELS.

TODAY WE ARE INTRODUCING the new De Soto for 1936. I believe you will be interested in the engineering thinking that went into this car—the planning behind it and how we visualized its market.

As you know, times are getting better. Today people are again thinking of automobiles in terms of style and beauty and excellence of appointments—not only transportation.

As buying power improves and people get more money... it is logical that they will want more style, additional room and greater beauty than the very lowest-priced cars have offered.

What we could plainly see for De Soto this year was a market of thousands of buyers who were eager to own a STYLE CAR... and could afford it, due to this upturn in business.

So we created for them a brand new De Soto—that is actually a custom-built car—to sell for only a few dollars more than the very lowest-priced automobiles made today.

In the last five years, we have learned how to build cars better... and we found ways to bring the luxury and appointments of two and three-thousand-dollar automobiles into this medium-price bracket.

I can say to you sincerely that this new De Soto has as many CUSTOM FEATURES as any car built in the finest custom-body shop.

THE NEW DE SOTO INTERIORS are most beautiful. The outside styling, you can see for yourself, is distinctive and pleasing. People who have seen this new De Soto have gone out of their way to tell me that they believe it will be the best-looking, most distinctive car of 1936.

In addition, it is a marvelous performing automobile. I can tell you, from hundreds of miles of personal experience, that it is a real pleasure to drive. It steers and handles easily, stops quickly, and the engine is one of the most powerful in its price class.

Furthermore, tests have shown that the new

Gas-Saver Transmission is capable of giving the remarkable economy of 25 miles per gallon.

I want you to see this new car. It will be displayed this week at Automobile Shows all over America, and it is also being demonstrated by De Soto dealers throughout the country.

After you have seen it, write me your frank opinion of the car. The Chrysler Corporation is very proud to present this new De Soto, and I feel sure you will agree with me that it is destined to be an outstanding success.

ORANGE COUNTY POSTAL HEADS ENJOY DINNER

Mrs. Olive Beard, Yorba Linda postmistress, was hostess last night to Orange county postmasters and a group from territory immediately adjacent to Orange county when she entertained at a program and a turkey dinner at the Yorba Linda Woman's clubhouse.

More than 40 guests gathered for the occasion. Dinner was served at long tables centered in autumn fruits and miniature Mexican carts filled with vegetables and fruits. Place cards and favors carried out the theme, and the latter were hand painted gourds planted with cacti.

Entertainment Program
Mrs. Beard presented as the program of the evening Genevieve Townsend, Yorba Linda pianist, who played a group of numbers; her brother, Robert Townsend, who accompanied by his sister, played violin solos; Louis Tate of Fullerton who played piano solos and Billy Swain of Yorba Linda who sang several numbers with Miss Tate accompanying.

Impromptu talks featured the balance of the dinner program. Terry Stephenson, former Santa Ana postmaster, was congratulated on his appointment as county treasurer. Inspector Jarvis of the San Diego and Southern district, talked briefly on postal laws, and informal discussion followed on the general use of postal laws and regulations.

Mrs. Ada Purpus, Laguna Beach postmistress, will be hostess at the meeting in January.

Members of the Challenge class of the Methodist church served dinner. The general committee was Mrs. Lloyd Zimmerman, Mrs. C. H. Eichler and Mrs. Herbert Vorsham. Mrs. Lillian Balze was in charge of decorations.

ST. BONIFACE CHURCH IN ANAHEIM TO CELEBRATE 75TH ANNIVERSARY SUNDAY

St. Boniface's church in Anaheim will be the mecca Sunday for Orange county Catholics drawn there by the Diamond Jubilee ceremonies honoring the seventy-fifth anniversary of the establishment of the Catholic church in Anaheim parish.

The Rev. P. Browne, pastor of St. Boniface's for the past 17 years will be celebrant at the Solemn High Mass to be sung at 10 a. m. Sunday. The Rev. Patrick O'Dowd of Seal Beach will act as deacon; the Rev. Timothy Galvin of Santa Ana, sub-deacon, and the Rev. Charles O'Carroll, assistant pastor of St. Boniface's, master of ceremonies.

The Diamond Jubilee sermon will be preached by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. John Cawley of P. A. V. G. of the Cathedral in Los Angeles.

Monday morning there will be a Requiem High Mass for all deceased members and benefactors of St. Boniface's parish.

Party Tuesday
Tuesday night, in the parish hall, will be held a card party and program for the general public to which both Catholics and non-Catholics are invited. A variety of games will be played, with prizes for winners in each, and a grand prize. Refreshments will be served by women of the church.

St. Boniface's parish, originally Santa Ana parish, was founded in April, 1860, with the first church at Yorba. The Very Rev. Blas Raho C. M., vicar general of the diocese of Monterey and Los Angeles officiated at the solemn benediction April 29 that year, and the Rev. D. Serrano of San Gabriel was in charge of the parish, making occasional trips on horseback to minister to the religious needs of the widely scattered congregation.

Prior to the erection of the Yorba church, as early as 1859, mass was sung in the home of Mrs. Theodore Rimpau, still standing at South Palm and West Broadway. Mrs. Rimpau's sons called the worshippers together by trudging through the colony ringing handbells.

Move From Home
When attendance outstripped the private home, services were held in the town hall at Center and Los Angeles streets. The first church in the Mother Colony was built soon after on West Cypress street between Los Angeles and Lemon streets.

PROBLEMS OF YOUTH TOPIC OF SPEECHES

"The Decadence of Modern Youth" was the general topic of speakers at El Camonito Toastmasters club last evening at James cafe, with Lyle Mitchell as toastmaster. Prior to the speaking program, Ralph Smedley spoke on the benefits to be derived from membership if continued, giving illustrations from the experience of members. Table topic for the evening was the widening of South Main street, proposed by Malcolm Macurda for the express benefit of Councilman Ernest Layton. The subject was not treated in a serious manner.

As speaker on the program, Mr. Layton devoted six minutes to a discussion of money, particularly as to the space which various sums might occupy, finishing with the declaration that five billion dollars in dollar bills, would fill the two upper stories of the new city hall.

Talk On Constitutions

E. M. "Sunny" Sundquist also departed from the evening's topic, devoting his period to a discussion of the superstitions held by various occupational groups as well as people generally.

Cal Gilbert spoke seriously on "The Decadence of Modern Youth" but made a plea for youth and ascribed its asserted lack of principle and ideals largely to the example set by adults.

A. H. Allen, on the same subject, likewise considered the temptations of modern conditions rather than youth itself as chiefly to blame. Neither Gilbert or Allen were disposed to admit any particular lowering of standards by the young people of today.

Gilbert Platt gave a character sketch, impersonating a rustic, and injecting a good deal of humor into his talk, with no attempt to make a case either for or against youth.

Ernest S. Wooster, on the subject of proper conduct for a toastmaster, caricatured weaknesses of speakers and their faults and mannerisms.

Critics were Ted Blanding, Macurda, Carl Sanborn, Fred Eley, Bob Hornaday with Roy Coleman, president of the club as general critic.

FISH MARKET IMPROVED AT GRAND CENTRAL

Presenting the most completely equipped and stocked fish market of its kind in Southern California, the J. D. Jeanes Grand Central Fish market held a formal opening this morning, following its remodeling and renovation.

The market now has a completely modern and efficient refrigeration system installed, its show cases having been enlarged, and it is prepared to serve a wide and varied assortment of fish of all sorts at all times, Jeanes said.

The market features the widest assortment of fresh fish in Santa Ana, plus oysters, shellfish, poultry, smoked, salt and pickled fish, Jeanes said.

He has been in the fish business for the past 25 years, his experience ranging from the actual fishing to both wholesale and retail selling. Jeanes has operated a similar store in Santa Ana for the past three and a half years, and has been in his present location for two and a half years. Mrs. Jeanes is associated with him in the store, which is located in the center of the Grand Central market.

ORANGE JUICE FACTS TOLD AT CLUB SESSION

ORANGE, Nov. 22.—In an effort to advance sales of glass containers manufactured by a company in Wheeling, W. Va., with which he was connected, H. C. Stephens, chemist and manager for the Santa Barbara Citrus Juice company on South Cypress street, perfected a process for canning orange juice, Stephens told members of the Orange Rotary club yesterday.

The speaker declared that after developing a process for attractive packs of fresh strawberries and other berries, garden vegetables and mollusks of various sorts, he turned his attention to canning orange juice, expecting to solve the problem in two weeks' time, the solution actually taking 15 years.

The content of vitamin C is higher in orange juice than in any known edible product, Stephens stated, and this vitamin is considered of great value in establishing health in both children and adults. Stephens was first connected in the orange juice industry with the Vitavac company at Fullerton, a concern which ceased operations in 1928. Later he was head of the Stephens Packing company at Upland and of the same concern which opened a plant at McPherson which is now known as the Natural Foods Products company.

Stephens told of methods of processing the juice by removing the air content and of the great difficulty which had faced packers in obtaining a tin can with an enamel interior. Lemon juice in cans is now used in drinks of various sorts, said the speaker. Stephens stated that he believed that the sale of canned orange juice will promote the sale of fresh oranges and discourage dilution of citrus juices served in eating places. He stated that enough vitamin C will stave off old age and will add years to the average life span.

Frank Collins was program chairman and Dr. Robert Burns McAulay presided.

School Absences Due to Colds Are Cut Almost Half

Better Colds-Control Shown in Clinical Tests Among
5,118 School Children

Important news for mothers and teachers comes from Vicks Chemists as one result of their thirty years' specialized study of colds. In clinical tests among 5,118 school children, nearly half (40.20%) of the time ordinarily lost from school on account of colds was saved by following of Vicks Plan for better Control of Colds.

This is only one of the impressive findings from three series of clinical tests of the Plan, conducted over a three-year period, among 14,702 people—including both adults and children. Gratifying results were indicated in fewer, shorter and milder colds for followers of the Plan.

To help reduce children's absences from school on account of colds, mothers in Santa Ana are being given complete details of Vicks Plan, and trial packages of its specialized aids to better home control of colds.

You will also find the Plan fully explained in each package of Vicks VapoRub—first aid in preventing many colds—and Vicks VapoRub—the mother's standby in relieving colds.

HOLLYWOOD HAPPENINGS

By DAN THOMAS, Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 22.—Not content with having an assistant director named Eddie Trickle in "The Rainmakers" company, studio executives now have added Peggy Watters to the cast.

"Work" in Hollywood

A story is being told of a newspaperman who was brought out here as a writer by Paramount. Determined to get off to a good start, he worked day and night to dash off a 35-page adaptation in three days. Then he tried to see the producer about it.

Two weeks went by and nothing happened. Then, instead of reading the adaptation, the exec sent the writer a collaborator. That brought an explosion that could be heard for blocks from the ex-reporter, who spilled all his woes to his new teammate.

"Yeah, you're right," returned the latter. "But let's just take it easy. How about playing some tennis this afternoon?"

PROGRAM FOR BOOK WEEK INAUGURATED

ANAHEIM, Nov. 22.—Because the theme of book week this year is "Reading for Fun," the Anaheim library children's department has been transformed into a circus by Miss Elva Haskett, children's librarian, with two main tents, under beach umbrellas, and numerous side shows.

The first of the main tents displays fiction and adventure stories for older boys and girls. The other one, adorned with a cowboy rider, has western stories and stories of Indians and cowboy life.

Children are offered a free ride on the "Foreign Express," which takes them from one country to another in quick order through the pages of the colorful travel books. A new book on Ethiopia for children is contained on this table.

Poor Duncy. He was very game, but really, it was quite a shame the way he puffed and panted with the hopper 'neath his arm.
He trudged on for a half a mile, and then said, with a sickly smile, "Let's stop and rest. I'm pretty sure that we'll come to no harm."
"Okay," replied the hopper. "Gee, a thousand thanks for lugging me. I don't see how you did it, lad. You must be very strong."
"Well," Duncy said, "I did my best. It is no wonder I need rest. Perhaps you don't recall, but I was dragging you along."

"Now, if you'll just wait here, I think that I will run and get a drink. I see a little stream ahead. I'm thirsty as can be."
The hopper snapped, "If you don't mind, I'll follow right along behind. If water peps you up, it ought to do the same for me."
Beside the stream they found a shell and Duncy shouted, "This is swell! We'll use it for a cup. Here, you can have the first good swig."
The hopper drank the small shell dry and then he loudly shouted, "I feel so much better, Duncy, I could almost dance a jig!"

Another voice then made them jump. It said, "If I'd give you a thump, you both would get a sudden dip. Oh, what a sight you'd be! But I'm not mean. You're safe and sound." Then Duncy quickly turned around and saw a funny-looking man. He shouted, "Mercy me!"
"Who are you? How did you get here?" The man replied, "There's naught to fear. I've lived around these parts, son, since the day that I was born."
"You are a boy and I'm an elf. Come, tell me all about yourself. But, first of all, please smile. There is no need to look forlorn." (Copyright, 1935, NEA Service, Inc.)

(The elf gives Duncy a big surprise in the next story.)

DISTRICT P.-T. A. OPPOSES MUNITIONS PROFITS AND WAR EXCEPT FOR DEFENSE

The United States should never go to war except "in defense of home and country," and profits should be abolished from the munitions trade, said a resolution addressed to President Franklin D. Roosevelt by the Fourth District Congress of Parents and Teachers in Santa Ana yesterday.

The resolution introduced by Mrs. R. W. Marvin of Anaheim, was unanimously passed by the congress, in session at the Santa Ana First Christian church.

The resolution shared interest with another resolution calling upon school authorities to recognize the problem of handicapped children and make provision for facilities to insure their proper education.

Arthur F. Corey, assistant county superintendent of schools, spoke on "The Problem of Alcohol and Tobacco in Relation to the Schools," forcefully pointing out that sane rather than sentimental instruction should be given the children on these subjects. He emphasized the finding of the Carnegie institute that alcohol is a narcotic, not a stimulant.

F. L. Thurston, executive secretary of the California Teachers association, southern section, discussed the present trends in taxation and their effect upon the schools.

Captain Henry Meehan of the Orange county squad, California highway patrol, outlined the school safety program for the year, and stressed the need of caution on the highways, pointing to the steadily mounting death toll from traffic accidents.

H. D. Edwards, in charge of Red Cross first aid in Santa Ana, spoke briefly upon accident prevention and urged the forming of first aid classes by Parent-Teacher groups. He promised to supply qualified instructors.

Mrs. Mary B. Robertson, chairman of the committee on handicapped children, addressed the meeting on that subject, reporting on her work and suggesting means of aiding the afflicted children.

County Superintendent of Schools Ray Adkinson told of the work his office is attempting to do for handicapped children, and elucidated the state law that covers this field of education.

There was an interlude of group singing, under leadership of Orion Behrmeyer of Westminster, and during its progress the Mother Singers entered and took their places on the rostrum, where, with Mrs. Mabel Spizzy directing, they sang three songs: "Barcarolle," by Hoffman; "Cradle Song," by Dvorak, and "The Bells of St. Mary's."

The congress was informed by Mrs. G. B. Greder, chairman of the float committee, that the organization's entry in the annual Armistice day parade in Anaheim had won second prize in the first division. Mrs. Freder presented a handsome cup awarded to the congress.

Mrs. W. T. Kirven of Garden Grove, president of the organization, presided over yesterday's meeting. Miss Julia Magill, newly elected citizen chairman, led in the flag salute. Devotions were conducted by Mrs. Walter Fine of Santa Ana. At their conclusion, Mrs. John Mills, president of the Santa Ana Parent-Teacher council, cordially welcomed the group, before the program of speaking and reports began.

The resolution concerning handicapped children follows: "Whereas the attention of Fourth District Congress of Parents and Teachers has been called to the number of children with physical and mental abnormalities in Orange county, and that limiting and legal institutional organizations make the following courses of actions desirable—Be it resolved:

"That local school authorities in every district in the county be made conscious of the problem of handicapped children in their schools and urged by this organization where possible to provide suitable facilities for their education;

"Second: That where such arrangements locally cannot be made, that the county superintendent of schools be urged to arrange special visiting teachers for those cases wherever in the county they may be found, for whom no local advantages have been provided;

"Third: That if conditions demand it in some future arrangement, a special school may be provided for those cases by co-operation of the several school districts of the county. If legislation is found to be necessary as a basis for a school, such should be fostered."

Blaine Cox, of Santa Ana, son of the late Judge John B. Cox, speakers' Nemesis of more than a decade ago, is unable to meet his debts and obligations from the $60 monthly income of a trust fund he established in 1932, and wants the First National bank, his trustee, to pay his creditors from the funds of the trust, he stated in a suit filed yesterday in superior court against the bank.

The court was asked to direct the bank to pay such debts from the funds of the trust, despite terms of the trust which made it exempt from such obligations. The bank has refused to make such payments, it was stated. The obligations listed included meal tickets, rent, clothing bills, radio, jewelry, a loan from a well-known local liquor distributor, ambulance service and attorney fees.

Laguna Club President Gives Reviews for Ebell Section

Choosing for her reviews a discussion of Chinese life and culture, "My Country and My People" by Lin Yutang, and Don Blanding's new collection, "Memory Room," Mrs. Gene Douglas, president of Laguna Beach Women's club was guest speaker for the Ebell Book Review section Tuesday at the home of Mrs. N. A. Beals, 1016 French street.

Lin Yutang, thoroughly westernized in education, holding degrees from several American universities including Occidental college, has the background of Chinese culture that makes his book an authentic and interesting discussion of various aspects of Chinese life, the speaker said. She commended it particularly as a valuable reference because of its fine indexing.

Mrs. Douglas, reviewing Don Blanding's latest book, read a group of poems in which the color and charm for which the writer is noted were particularly evident.

Miss Rosa Boyd poured tea during the social hour which followed. An especially effective table decoration was achieved with the use of ranunculus blossoms and white berries from that interesting shrub-like form of arbutus. Assisting hostesses with Mrs. Beals were Miss Boyd, Mrs. Lillian Pritchett and Mrs. J. D. Wilson.

Guests at the meeting included Mesdames Ella Campau, J. C. Murfin and M. Northrop Wyatt.

The December meeting will be at the home of Mrs. J. Frank Burke, Panorama Heights.

150 MEMBERS AND GUESTS ATTEND AUXILIARY DINNER

"Membership is the atlas that supports each sphere of the American Legion Auxiliary program" stated Mrs. Pauline Ellison of Long Beach, department vice-president of the Auxiliary at a membership dinner of the local unit last night in Veterans hall. Summarizing the Auxiliary's policies and ideals, Mrs. Ellison said "An adequate army and navy are the best attributes of peace."

She added that this statement does not represent a militaristic attitude, as many of the organization's opponents would suggest.

The dinner marked the Santa Ana unit's progress in its current membership campaign, which will close in February when a quota of 238 members is expected to be filled. Almost half that number is paid up now, according to Mrs. Earl Lepper, membership chairman. Her two team captains, Mrs. Ralph Mitchell and Mrs. Robert Sandon, were seated at either end of the speaker's table, half of which was decorated in gold, and the other blue, representing the colors of the working teams, Mrs. Lepper, Mrs. Harold Rasmussen and Mrs. Sandon had done the decorating. It was pointed out that Santa Ana unit is the largest in the 21st district. One hundred and fifty members and guests assembled for the dinner.

Guests Greeted
Making a surprise visit early in the evening, Dan Emmett of Santa Paula, Legion department commander, revealed that tentative arrangements are under way for holding a department executive committee meeting in Santa Ana December 14 and 15. At the request of another visitor, Ben Lieberman of Garden Grove, Legion post county commander, members decided to form a committee for entertaining wives of members should the executive committee meet here.

Present with Mrs. Ellison were Marjorie Peabody of Long Beach, 21st district president, and her secretary, Marie Kennedy of Seal Beach. Mrs. Edna Eklund of the local unit, 21st district rehabilitation chairman, was granted the aid of Santa Ana members in making the Christmas and St. Patrick's favors for the veterans at Sawtelle. Vera Burdick of Fullerton, 21st district poppy chairman, was introduced.

Initiation
Colorful indeed was the work of the drill team. Captained by Mrs. Russell Hardcastle, the group did escort work during the evening, and conducted the initiation ceremony during which Mabel P. Bohannon, Vera Pope, Eva King, Madeline Hume, Naomi Brassel and Margaret Ann Haupt became members, while Catherine Teief, Vernice Stigers, Nancy Neer, Mary Brassel, Leone Lindegard, Betty Lee Martin and Margaret Schmiedberg were admitted to the Junior Auxiliary.

Presented to the auxiliary the silver loving cup which the team won for having high honors in the ladies' marching units Armistice day at the Anaheim parade.

Dinner and Program
Mrs. Margaret Hill was responsible for planning and directing the cooking of the turkey dinner, which was served by Legion post drum corps and their new commander, Harold Carnahan. Mrs. E. F. Mathews, program chairman, introduced Beth Mitchell, a pupil of Holly Lash Visel, who gave readings, and Dorothy Eginton, accordion solos. Mrs. Ralph Hoover, president, conducted the meeting.

Future Plans
Following a report by the general chairman, Mrs. George Sullivan, on the recent successful dog show, it was decided to make the show an annual affair. The auxiliary will send Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan as their delegates to this month's dog show to be held at the Ambassador hotel, Los Angeles.

Mrs. Rasmussen revealed plans for the annual Christmas party to be held on the evening of December 10, when participants will assemble in Veterans hall for dancing and refreshments after card parties in the homes of individual members. Proceeds from the affair will go for charity work. The hope chest which will be awarded as a prize, was on display last night, together with its supply of gifts. Mrs. Marion Dodder

Four Guests Received With Contract Club Members

Although no social group in the city is more faithful in observing its customary meeting date than the Wednesday Contract club, yet illness has prevented some of its members from being present at several recent meetings, so that Mrs. A. J. Cruickshank and Mrs. Robert G. Tutill have come to be considered "official substitutes."

This was the case this week when Mrs. F. E. Farnsworth included them in the group for luncheon in her home, 2219 North Broadway, and with them, Mrs. Rowland P. Yeagle and Mrs. Charles S. Kendall; also called upon frequently to play with club members.

Exquisite lace doilies were placed upon the polished surface of the dining table for the luncheon hour, and clusters of chrysanthemums found their colors accented by the flaring candles used.

Bridge tables were arranged in the adjoining living room, where later Mrs. Yeagle, Mrs. James Harding and Mrs. Tutill made the three high scores of the afternoon, and were rewarded with prizes.

Mrs. C. V. Davis, now serving on the grand jury, Mrs. J. I. Clark and Mrs. Charles Kelley were absent members of the club, which includes with the hostess, Mrs. Farnsworth, Mesdames George Briggs, A. Wedding Announced Of Miss Blanche Yokum And John W. Joy

Of interest to the bride's many friends in this city, was announcement made today of the marriage in Pomona on November 2, of Miss Blanche Nina Yokum, daughter of Mrs. Pearl Levens, 1235 West Fourth street, to John W. Joy, young Bostonian who is now in business for himself in Huntington Park.

The young people have been honeymooning at Lake Arrowhead, having left for the mountains immediately after the quiet rites in the church of the Pomona parish. Miss Yokum chose for her wedding costume, the smart tailor in gray with all matching costume details, in which she later was to travel. A corsage of Tallman roses was quite effective with the gray shades.

Miss Opal Yokum of this city, was her sister's honor maid, and like the bride, chose a tailored outfit in leaf-brown. Robert White of Huntington Park, was best man. Only relatives and a very few close friends were present for the ceremony.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Joy will be at home to their friends in Huntington Park where they are pleasantly established at 6012-C, Rugby street, and where Mr. Joy has returned to the termite control office of which he is head. His bride was formerly dental assistant in the office of Dr. J. J. Jacobs of this city, and more recently has been working in a similar capacity for a Huntington Park dentist.

Travel Section Makes Tentative Plans For Party

Tentative plans were under way today for a benefit party to be given in December, as a result of a meeting of Junior Ebell Travel section Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. H. B. Van Dien, 2402 Bonnie Brea. Her daughter, Mrs. Charles Webber and Miss Dorothy Forgy were co-hostesses.

Additional plans for the holiday party will be revealed in the near future, according to the leader, Mrs. Kenneth Coulson.

Wednesday's program was an enjoyable feature given by Alan Revill, who told of summer travels in his native England.

In serving refreshments, Mrs. Webber and Miss Forgy had assistance of Mrs. Van Dien, who poured tea. Others present, with Mr. Revill, were Mesdames Wendell Finley, Fenton Dean, Edwin Clarke, Arthur Wade, Kenneth Coulson and the Misses Nan Mead, Lolita Mead and Betty Smith.

Gifts Are Presented Party Honoree

Dominated by a stork motif from decorations to entertainment, the party given recently by Mrs. Charles Morgan, 1446 Maple street, was in compliment to Mrs. Leonard Johnson.

The game of "stork" created merriment among the guests, and resulted in high scores and rewards for Mrs. Roy Griset and Miss Carolyn Cushing, and Mrs. C. F. Peck. To Mrs. Johnson as party honoree, was presented an assortment of layette articles.

Mrs. Morgan concluded her hospitality with the serving of refreshments at the evening's close, again giving prominence to the prevailing motif especially with the cunning baby shoes used as nut cups and forming favors for the guests.

She had as party guests in addition to Mrs. Johnson, Mesdames Charles McIntyre, George Dierberger, Jack Reed, L. W. Wilson, Floyd Haskell, C. E. Wray, W. D. Hill, Roy Griset, C. F. Peck, William Trusty, Harwood Larson, James Beach and the Misses Carolyn Cushing and Jean Gaspar.

Miss Lucinda Griffith Addresses Section

Miss Lucinda Griffith, junior college and high school art instructor, was guest speaker at the meeting of Ebell Arts and Crafts section Wednesday morning in the clubhouse.

Miss Griffith added to the interest of her talk with a display of the work done in her classes in such varied fields as metal, alloy and copper work, pottery, book-binding, weaving and silk painting.

Future plans for the section were discussed during the brief business session.

MIXING BOWL

How would you like to see among your Christmas gifts on Christmas morning, a good sized square box, attractively wrapped, and smelling like Araby, or at least your grandmother's garden as you unwrapped the box? And when you got it unwrapped, to find in it a dozen four-inch square bags for your beauty baths. I think that would be a perfectly swell gift so, I'm making a supply for several of my friends. Perhaps you'd like to know how to make and what to put in them and the approximate cost?

Order a pound of powdered orris root, a pound of almond meal, and a half pound box of any mild soap chip that you could use for toilet purposes. Order likewise, a bag (about 9 pounds) of oatmeal and eight yards of cheese cloth. Mix well all of the stuffing, and divide the length of the cloth into 3 widths. Cut them, press flat and sew on machine into stalls, a double sewing between each section to allow for cutting. That will give you a cheese cloth bag 4 inches wide and 6 inches long. Put a good handful in each bag, and tie the bags with a bit of blue cotton tape. The contents scent the bath and cleanse at the same time, and the bags are thrown away after the bath, of course.

A rough estimate of the cost will be about three dollars, but it will take care of 4 gifts in beautiful style.

EAT AND GROW SLIM

Shrimp Salad

1-2 can diced shrimp, 1 stalk celery, a sliced tomato, lettuce and diet French dressing.
1 hard dinner roll, split and toasted
1-2 pat butter for roll
Pot. of clear tea.

Calory total ..... 325

TODAY'S RECIPES

Pineapple-Nut Salad

1 box lime jelly powder
1 small bottle stuffed olives
1-2 cup salted almonds and cashew nuts mixed

1 small can crushed pineapple
Strain juice from pineapple and add enough water to make 2 scant cups. Dissolve lime powder in hot liquid and cool. Add pineapple sliced olives and roughly crushed nuts and mould in refrigerator.

Serve on crisp lettuce with whipped cream mayonnaise: for this use 1 egg white, whipped stiff, 4 tablespoons whipped cream, and mayonnaise to mix to a smooth creamy dressing.

This salad, moulded in small shapes, served with tiny hot corn muffins, and sherbet and coffee, would make a luncheon menu that wouldn't ruin your friends' waist lines.

I can't say that for my oyster rarebit. You can't make omelette without breaking eggs, and you can't make a good oyster dish unless you use plenty of butter and rich things in it, so just park your conscience outside and do penance some other time when this dish is offered you.

Oyster Rarebit for Six

1 quart oysters
1-4 pound butter
3 cups rich milk
3 tablespoons cornstarch
1 cup grated cheese
1-2 cup thick mayonnaise
Salt, pepper, paprika and lemon juice

Toast points

Wash and cut the oysters. Simmer 10 minutes with half of the butter and drain. Add oyster liquid to milk, scall with butter, thicken with cornstarch, season and cook 15 minutes. Add cheese and mayonnaise, stir well, add oysters and season. Serve on a toast lined deep platter with lemon slices and parsley garnish.

Saturday: Italian Casserole and a 3-minute icing you'll adore.

Junior College News

Ranch Round-Up

Leaving the Y. M. C. A. building at 5 o'clock Tuesday night and assuming the roles of ranch hands, members of Santa Ana Junior college Women's Athletic association journeyed to a rustic barn for a "Round-up" party.

The co-eds rode in a hayrack to Deodar ranch, Tustin, where they were served a ranch dinner, followed by games and initiation. Upon arrival they were divided into rival ranches, the "Rocking Arrow" and the "Double Bar," for games of the evening.

Miss Betty Lee, president, was party chairman. Dinner was planned by the Misses Ruth Kilbourne, Louise Sexton and Mary Wallace. Games were under direction of Miss Helena Bailey, assisted by Miss Lee. Tickets for the affair were sold by Miss Lois Pranke.

Service Clubs

Women's service clubs of Santa Ana Junior college gathered Monday evening for the first regular meetings of individual societies, following initiations held two weeks ago.

Las Gitanas were entertained at the home of Miss Dorothy Pettit, a newly elected member. After a short business meeting, the evening was turned over to entertainment planned by Miss Jean McAulay, president. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Spinsters were entertained by new members of the organization at Lido Isle clubhouse. The evening was passed with games and dancing. When the refreshment period arrived, cleverly colored menus were handed to the guests who chose their courses. The Misses Polly Angne, Jo Green, Marjorie and Jean Palmer, and Jean Reuter were in charge of the menu plans.

Movs were received informally by their faculty advisor, Miss Lucinda Griffith, at her home. The meeting held before entertainment of the evening resulted in the appointment of the Misses Janice Johnson, Phyllis Hefke, La Rene McMillan and Marjorie Bush as a committee for the approaching

"Penny Fair." Miss Griffith served refreshments. Las Meninas were also given a party by new members of their organization. Old members were escorted to a local theater and later were served refreshments at the home of Miss Llewellyn Allen in Tustin.

Parent-Teachers

Joint Meeting

Approximately 30 active members of Spurgeon and Lowell Parent-Teacher association attended the joint meeting of the groups Tuesday afternoon in Spurgeon school, where Dr. Bessie A. McClellahan, professor of sociology at U. S. C., was featured speaker.

Individual business sessions were held under the direction of Mrs. Robert Steinberger, Spurgeon president, and Mrs. R. F. Fipps, Lowell president, Bobbie Corey gave a reading, "What a Boy Thinks of Castor Oil," and Lorena Croddy Graves presented the De Molay quartet in two numbers, "A Little Close Harmony" and "The Old Gray Robe" with Mrs. Ralph Watson at the piano. The quartet is composed of Tommy Croddy, Stanley Sebastian, Maurice Burt and Ralph Pagenkopp.

Mrs. John J. Mills, president of City Council P.-T. A.; Mrs. Newell Moore and Golden Norwood Weston, director of adult education in the city schools, were among guests present. It was Mrs. Weston's privilege to introduce the speakers.

In her talk on "Parents' Preparation for Child Adolescence," the speaker drew upon personal experiences not only in field training of university students, but in contacts with child students. She discussed the confidential subjects and problems which they had brought to her, and suggested the necessity of understanding the childhood mind, and remembering problems and points of view of the 'teen age.

A social hour following the address was made more friendly by the serving of sandwiches, mint and tea by fifth grade mother of Spurgeon school, Mrs. Steinberger and Mrs. Fipps were accorded the honor of pouring tea.

THE WEEKLY PANTRY SHELF

COLLEGES HAILED IN SOUSA'S MARCHES 'MUSICAL MOMENTS' ARE RADIO FEATURE

With his cheery "Greetings and salutations" announcement, Hugh Conrad, World Broadcasting System announcer will introduce another "Musical Moments" program paying tribute to two well-known colleges tonight on KREG at 7 o'clock, a presentation of the Chevrolet Motor company.

The orchestra and the male chorus will offer songs of Notre Dame and the University of Pittsburg as the featured numbers, in addition to the two popular tunes: "You Are My Lucky Star" from "Broadway Melody of 1936" and "My Pretty Girl."

"Musical Moments," now featuring songs of the big colleges, is scheduled Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays on KREG at the same hour.

Tonight "Acme" program will feature stirring band marches by Sousa and other equally familiar march tunes at 8:45 o'clock as a presentation of the T. S. Hunter Oil company.

Sousa's "El Capitan," "High School Cadets," "The Diplomat," "Liberty Bell," "Washington Post," "King Cotton" and "Stars and Stripes Forever" will all be included and the two special numbers: "I Love a Parade" and "Valencian" will be programmed.

Many of the selections on tonight's program were scheduled in response to popular demand, indicating that band music is favored by a large number of listeners.

Although gold bullion is called 1000 fine, it is actually only 999.999 fine.

RADIO NEWS

ORGAN CONCERT PROGRAMMED THIS EVENING

The strains of four of the best-liked melodies particularly adapted to the pipe organ will be presented during tonight's program at 7:45 on KREG by the Dr. A. Reed Shoe Store.

The melodies, as played by Richard Jordan, nationally-known organist, will include Dr. A. Reed's "Song of the Islands," "Love, Your Spell is Everywhere" and "How Am I to Know," the latter two being outstanding hits of several years ago but still remain popular because of their haunting melodies.

The program is another of the extension-of-service presentations made every Friday at the same hour by the local shoe store and will include brief, edifying announcements concerning corrective shoes and how they should be used.

RADIO FEATURES

Elmer Layden, Notre Dame's football coach, will be a guest speaker on the Kellogg College from at 5:30 this evening over KFI, the day before his "Fighting Irish" clash with the "Trojans" of the University of Southern California.

An impressive and tuneful salute to one of America's most versatile and prolific composers, Jerome Kern, will be the musical piece de resistance of Dick Powell's "Hollywood Hotel" broadcast over KHJ at 6 tonight. Besides the familiar songs and drama sketches from some of Kern's most famous musical comedies and operettas, Errol Flynn and Olivia DeHavilland will enact scenes from the new picturization of "Captain Blood," colorful drama of the old French slave days.

Heralding the approach of the national holiday which is so typically American, the 453rd Inglewood Concert will present Robert Snyder, well known tenor balladist, and Frederick Stark's Concerters in a 30-minute program over KHJ at 7 tonight.

Who was the first crap-shooter? John Hix has delved thoroughly into the history of this "pastime" and tonight at 7:45 on his "Strange As It Seems" broadcast over KHJ the whole story will be revealed.

A radio adaptation of "Stars Over Broadway," the new motion picture starring James Melton and Jane Fanning, will be produced on the air for the first time at the Beauty Box theater broadcast over KFI at 8:30 tonight with Melton and Miss Fanning.

SATURDAY
Severin Eisenberger, the noted Polish pianist, will be the solo performer when the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Alexander von Kresler, plays Beethoven's Piano Concerto.

'MARKET HOUR' TO GIVE AWAY PRIZE BASKETS

Two bountiful market baskets filled with good things to eat will be given away between 8 and 9 o'clock tonight on KREG during the "Market Bargain Hour Prize Program" which will also be opened to requests.

This special program will no doubt come as a pleasant surprise to listeners, as it is rare that evening broadcasts of this kind are scheduled. All who telephone in a request will be afforded an equal opportunity to win one of the market baskets and their contents and there will be no charges, fees, "strings" nor obligations attached to the giving of the prizes in any manner.

Requests may be made for any type of musical selection, whether popular or classical, band marches, organ numbers, vocal favorites, Hawaiian tunes, "hillbilly" songs, musical comedy or sacred selections. Another feature of the program is that merely the placing of a request, whether or not the number is played, makes the one who made the request eligible for participation in the giving away of the prizes, as it will probably be impossible to grant all the requests received during the hour.

native to California, some fine vines, even some small trees. They are native to tropical and warm temperate regions, most of them in Central and South America. Many of them contain narcotic or poisons. Several are used medicinally.

Among the characteristics which set them in one family group, that most easily recognized by the layman is naturally the flower. The calyx is five-cleft, and the corolla five-lobed. I don't know how much botany you've forgotten, but perhaps you recall that when the corolla, the inner floral envelope of a flower is separated into pieces, they are called petals. When they are united at the base, all in one piece, really, though cut in lobes, they are called the corolla. The flowers of the Solanaceae have this five-lobed you will find them plaited in the bud, with lengthwise folds like a fan. The Solanaceae are closely related to the Convolvulus, the morning-glory family, and to the family which contains the snapdragons and foxgloves.

While the family may not be outstanding in rare or beautiful forms, it holds some garden favorites of which any group might be proud. Who shall say that any plant family in the floral kingdom has given us for the common garden a better flower than the petunia; an herb more universally used than the tobacco; or better plenshing for the family board than the tomato and the potato.

And when all is said and done, there yet remains the night-blooming jasmine, to turn our thoughts from the practical and prosaic, and, with its heavenly perfume, lift our hearts to other high realms of beauty and romance.

at her, and she had come almost near to liking him for a moment. Almost.

Deep in her thoughts, Nancy almost bumped into her half-sister. "Oh, hello," she said, pausing a moment in her confusion. And then walked on. As she reached the bottom step, Dana called:

"Are you going out, Nancy? Couldn't I go with you?"

Nancy surveyed Dana, who was looking slim and lovely in a simple, white frock and brown and white sport shoes. Her glance took in all the charm that was Dana's. The lovely eyes that looked deep green and yet blue in the light. The long lashes that brushed Dana's cheeks when she looked down. The soft burnished sheen of her hair.

"Not today," Nancy said rudely. "I'm afraid you aren't dressed for tramping. Tomorrow," she added maliciously, "I'll take you for a drive in the family chariot. And perhaps I'll show you the palace where the fairy prince lives."

She swung on down the old brick walk, putting her feet, in the plain, flat-heeled shoes, down firmly. Walking with easy, panther-like grace.

Dana's face was red. "What does she think I am? A 12-year-old? Talking about a fairy prince!" Well, her first overture toward friendship had received a distinct rebuff.

The gate clanged viciously behind Nancy, who was thinking, "Why did I do that?"

But she knew the answer. She had wanted to hurt Dana for no other reason than that her half-sister was soon to meet Ronald Moore.

MISSING MOMENTS

Theater tickets missing! What a moment! With no tickets and "Standing Room Only," you and your friends are faced with the prospect of missing the matinee.

THERE'S nothing more disappointing than to drink coffee in which flavor has been "forgotten." Yet there are thousands who go through this experience daily. In desperation they float from one brand of coffee to another, and experiment with all kinds of recipes and utensils trying to get a cup of coffee that tastes right. Nothing can take the place of flavor in coffee.

The reason many coffees have something missing in flavor, is because something has been overlooked in their blend, roast, grind or pack. If your coffee appears in the cup with the flavor missing, the thing for you to do is change to Hills Bros. Coffee. It is a never-changing BLEND of the finest coffees grown. This blend is roasted by an exclusive process—CONTROLLED ROASTING—that insures uniform flavor in every pound. This rich, matchless flavor is completely protected by Hills Bros. VACUUM PACK. And the GRIND of Hills Bros. Coffee gives perfect results in any coffee-making utensil.

PUBLISHERS' STATEMENT

With the change in the management of the News and Editorial department of The Register, it is hoped, with a few changes, to make The Register an even greater credit to the community than it has been in the past.

We hope to make the readers feel that they are the real dictators of how the paper should be published and what it should contain. Suggestions along this line will always be welcomed and appreciated from both the readers and the advertisers. We realize that a city is often judged by the character and size of its newspaper. A newspaper is one of the best advertisements a city can have. We hope, by carrying the news fairly and impartially, on both sides of every controversial question, we will merit the confidence and patronage of both the readers and the advertisers, so The Register can make the greatest possible contribution in trying to make Orange county a more delightful, desirable and profitable place in which to live.

A freer and franker exchange of ideas on all public and social problems, we believe, would help bring this condition about. The Register hopes to be a medium whereby this can be done. We feel that the citizens should all contribute their ideas and thoughts and be willing to exchange opinions and help each other correct errors in thinking. The Register will be glad to be a medium in helping bring about clear thinking on social and public questions.

If any reader or advertiser has an idea he believes will help promote our general welfare or believes an opinion or statement set forth in the news or editorial columns or contributed by another reader is in error or needs explanation, The Register will regard it as a favor to have the idea presented or the error pointed out.

Quite often readers have splendid ideas which would greatly help clarify public thinking, but hesitate to contribute for fear of boycotts from those who are being benefited or because they feel that they are not experienced in expressing their thoughts in writing and might be embarrassed by some error in presentation. How these two objections will be overcome will be explained in a later issue. Let it be understood, however, that personal attacks will not be published.

It is the opinion of the new publishers that this whole crushing depression is due to lack of understanding of the laws of life; that better general understanding on social and political problems can best be had by an exchange of ideas. That unsound theories will not stand up under publicity. That the newspaper can be of great service by being a medium for the exchange of ideas and working out a secret plan where there can be no punishment inflicted for a contribution which corrects or is intended to correct errors in thought. It is usually the party who is in error who wants to resort to control by revenge. Juries are secret for this reason.

In addition to a desire to make The Register a good paper, we would like to have The Register be a medium of helping Orange County citizens make our county a leader in social and ethical thought, to the end of raising our standard of living and helping spread sound thinking throughout the land. We feel that in any way assist in accomplishing this program would be really serving the community.

FINAL STRAW

Bruno Hauptmann's lawyers have asked the United States Supreme Court to set aside their client's conviction; and among their arguments is the assertion that his trial was nothing less than a "circus."

There certainly is no denying that the Hauptmann trial did have enough odd features to make an old-fashioned believer in the dignity of the courts moan with dull pain. But if your memory of that occasion is good, you may recall that the defense itself was not entirely blameless.

After all, there is nothing in ordinary criminal court procedure which makes it incumbent on defense attorneys to consult with the press every night, telling what they will do tomorrow, explaining how and why the state's case has fallen flat, and announcing in intricate detail how they are going to get their client acquitted.

The Hauptmann trial was, in some respects, a circus indeed; but our recollection is that the prosecution was not solely at fault.

VIGOR IN A VETERAN

Advancing years do not seem to dull Herbert Hoover's keen zest for political battle. Indeed, it almost seems as if the former president had been rejuvenated since he left the White House. Certainly his speeches are taking on a new pungency and zest.

In his speech before the Ohio Society of New York, for instance, we find him making phrases that Hugh Johnson himself might have fathered. "Nests of Constitutional termite"; "More abundant life—without the bacon"; "The Quick Loans Corporation for Xylophones, Yachts, and Zithers"; the "Blue-beard's Cave" of inflation—these phrases give Mr. Hoover's speech a bite and a saltiness that are both surprising and welcome.

It is already apparent that Mr. Hoover is going to be asking the administration some embarrassing questions during the coming campaign. If he asks them with this kind of zip and pepper, the campaign will take on an added liveliness.

Sayings Of Will Rogers

In view of the manner of Rogers' death, it is interesting to review the dispatches he wrote about Wiley Post in 1931, at the finish of Post's great flight.)

No news today as big as this Post and Gatty that are making this pilot of ours look like the size of a watermelon.

This pilot Post, is an old, one-eyed Oklahoma boy. He has just got that good eye glued on the horizon and he is going to find that horizon if it meets the earth anywhere.

And Gatty, just give him a compass and one peek at the Giant Dipper and he can tell you where you are even if you ain't there.

This is one ship I would have loved to been a stowaway on. Breakfast in Santa Monica and Dinner in Claremont. Rushing home to help welcome Post and Gatty, who are going to visit our metropolis tomorrow.

I thought if they could fly clear around the world and come to Claremont I ought to make this hop.

Besides, I am just anxious to see those guys. Flew Western Air to Amarillo, Texas, and now I am flying nine thousand feet at one hundred and seventy an hour in one of these fast low-wing Lockheed belonging to the Bowen line.

It's my first trip in one where they bundle the wheels up inside the wings. They say they sometimes forget to put 'em down. Believe me Pilot Lee will be reminded of it when he starts to land. The wheels are under the wings and the passengers can't see if they are down.

I am going to do a little wing walking and go out and see for myself tonight.

Day By Day In Washington

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—The public utility holding companies have determined to ask the courts to say whether the "death sentence" shall be visited upon them.

Their pleas for protection of property rights having been denied by the executive and legislative branches of the government, the utilities now ask the judicial branch of the government to declare whether a federal commission shall have the discretion to choose which companies shall live and which shall die.

"Even Hauptmann can go to the supreme court in our country," remarked a utility man the other day. "We at least should have the same privilege, and during the interim our companies ought not to be destroyed."

The Roosevelt administration hardly expected such a united front as the utility holding companies are showing in their filing of law suits to test the law, on such an aggressive assertion of rights. The penalties for refusing to register by December 1 are severe, but many of the holding companies feel that they are doomed anyway if they register and might not be doomed if the courts say the law is unconstitutional.

Some of the ablest constitutional lawyers in America have advised the utility holding companies that the act passed by congress last summer after a bitter fight is wholly invalid and the situation is just the same as if there were no law on the subject on the statute books. It is, therefore, a question of whether the utilities are defying a law or whether they are asking the judiciary to protect them from the defiance of the rights by congress and the president.

Only the supreme court of the United States can finally answer that question. The securities and exchange commission was willing to specify in writing that a company which filed a registration statement would not be waiving its constitutional rights, but the utility companies have had no faith in the promise, since a pledge of this sort had already been violated by another branch of the government and litigation started just the same.

This is because the SEC has no authority under the law to bind other agencies in the government not to prosecute the utility companies, and the utilities would not be able to challenge the action on the ground that it was unconstitutional.

The effect of the decision by the utilities not to conform to the requirements of the new law will, on the other hand, stir up congress next session to further efforts to find a way to regulate or destroy holding companies. The idea of taxing the utilities holding companies out of business has been suggested, but one of the difficulties is that a law which destroys utility companies and yet preserves holding companies in other lines of business can hardly be upheld as constitutional.

The federal court in Baltimore has said the new utility law is invalid in its entirety and it is on the basis of that decision that the utilities are refusing now to put themselves in the hands of a federal commission. The SEC has been charging that the Baltimore case is not a good test. But the lawsuits being filed this week directly attacking the validity of the act will furnish a real test.

The suits have taken the form of enjoining the government from denying the use of the mails or other instrumentalities of interstate commerce to companies that fail to register. During the interim the litigation is going on, all penalties would be stayed by court orders.

This is a clumsy way to test the validity of an act of congress, but, under our judicial system, it's the only way. The administration, of course, can hardly criticize anybody for going to court to find out what are his rights because, after all, the risk is entirely on the petitioner if it is proved that he has violated the law.

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

A NEW VERSION

(The story of a blacksmith, who drove his car around the country and picked up a lot of business.)

Under the spreading chestnut tree
No village blacksmith stands.
The smith is out of town, for he
Has business on his hands.
There were few nags to shoe at home
For trade was pretty bad.
So he has gone afar to roam
Where business ain't so bad.
And later on he will be back
With quite a tidy bit of jack.

When work refused to come to him
He rose and went to it;
He'd not be left out on a limb,
And simply would not quit.
He drove his buckboard up and down
Wherever there was trade;
And in full many a little town
A little change he made.
And when a pocketful he had,
He whispered softly: "Not so bad."

So thanks to him, a worthy man;
I venture to predict
That one who does the best he can
Will not be ever licked.
He'll always have a little means
To keep in storm and strife
Which he may jingle in his jeans
Or pass on to his wife.
And may amass a competence,
I wish that I had his hard sense.

And he took a couple of more easy puffs, saying, "This cigar tastes of something foreign and extraneous and I can't quite make out what it is."

Now Willyum you properly imagine it, ma said, and Pop said, "Take a puff yourself and you'll see if I only imagine it."

No thanks, I haven't risen to that depth of equality between the sexes, ma said. And she thawed to herself a while, saying, "Now I wonder, no, its impossible."

What's this? What's that? pop said, and ma said, Willyum take a good puff of that cigar and tell me if you think it tastes anything like camphor.

I can't take a good puff because all the puffs are bad, and by golly it tastes so much like camphor that it is camphor, pop said, and ma said, Then it must be possible. It's all your own fault, Willyum, because if you hadn't left the lid of the cigar box open I couldn't possibly of exidently dropped a few camphor balls into it this afternoon. Just a few, and even so they couldn't possibly of been in there more than an hour when I remembered and took them out again, she said.

An hour, yee gods, it mite as well of been a month, pop said. Fortunately there were only a half a dozen cigars left in there to be made moth proof, he said.

And he undumped them out and 2 camphor balls came out with them, ma saying, Goodness, I must of overlooked a couple. Well, it's an ill wind that has no silver lining. I'll give them to Mr. Seever, when he comes to take out the ashes. He always moves in such a cloud of ashes I'm sure a faint tinge of camphor will pass unnoticed, she said.

And this morning while Mr. Seever was taking out the ashes he smoked one of them with his ordinary expression.

Thoughts On Modern Life

THE BATTLE OF PIGS AND PIG IRON

At least Secretary Wallace is colorful and a past master at giving the press the raw material for head lines.

The other day he staged a battle between the pigs and pig iron. He was irked a bit by the hammering he has suffered for having decreed the death of so many pigs.

And this is how he struck back. "The pig iron production control of the big steel companies in 1933," he said, "was, in principle, a thousand times as damnable as the pig reduction campaign."

In other words, he said to business, "Agriculture may have been bad, but you were worse."

I wonder if the two cases of production control are parallel? The deliberate reduction of pigs resulted in a shortage of pork and bacon and a skyrocketing of their prices.

The reduction of pig iron did not result in a shortage and its price did not soar heavenward.

Government paid the farmers for not raising pigs.

Government did not pay the steel men for not producing pig iron.

The venture in pig killing has meant a real hardship to a vast army of poor families who have had to forego the eating of pork.

The reduction of pig iron output has levied no such distress on the poor.

And this limitation of foodstuffs has a hundred and one further ramifications that the reduction of pig iron does not have.

The rhetorician got the better of the realist in the secretary this time.

WHY DO THEY CRY?

For a baby, crying is a natural means of expression. It's her way of telling the world what she thinks. But if it persists beyond her babyhood it is apt to become a dangerous habit, and not to be tolerated. When a child uses tears as a means of defense or as an appeal for attention she does so with a purpose.

I know a little girl who cries every mealtime. She begins whimpering as soon as she climbs into her chair. As the first spoonful is put on her plate she breaks into lamentations.

"I don't want that."

"What do you want?"

"I want a baked potato."

"No baked potato tonight. you had one at noon."

"I don't care. I want a baked potato."

Some day, I hope, father or mother or somebody will say to that child: "No, you don't; you want to cry. That's all right with me. Climb right down and go to your room and shut the door and cry as much as you want to, but don't come back here until you have washed your face clean of all tears."

That will settle her. There is nothing the matter with her except a craving for attention. She is an only child, and sometimes she feels very lonely. She gets a lot of fun out of making the grown-ups stand around and do her bidding. She uses tears as a form of force. It's a kind of bullying no parent should put up with.

A mother of a ten-year-old writes: "Tell me how I can get Jane to stop crying. She cries all the time. When she gets up in the morning the weather is either too hot or too cold and she cries about it. The buttons are hard to get in and she cries about that. If her brother gets dressed first, she cries about that. If she misses her lessons, she cries. It sounds like an exaggeration, but it isn't. She even cries when she does well. We are all sick and tired of it. We can't stand it any longer. What shall we do with her?"

Send her to wash her face every time she cries. Insist upon a thorough washing with cold water. Make her stay out of the room where other people are until she can stop crying. If you are sure she cries without reason, just cries for the pleasure of it, banishment will cure her. Crying as a means of comforting one's self is a bad habit. The more one cries the easier it is, and the easier it is the more one cries.

Yes, of course, you ask a crying child: "What are you crying for?" But when you get the answer, "I can't help it," "He looked at me," "I want to go home," "She hit me," "I don't feel well," there is only one thing to do—direct the child to the nearest faucet and hand her a towel. Cold scrutiny, cold water, will restore her self-control and bring her to reality. She must discover that anything is better than crying. She must learn to hold up her head and keep a cheerful countenance. Teach, and she will know.
